Overview

Founded in 1903, the Economics Department at UC Berkeley is well-known for the excellence of its teaching and advising, with a strong reputation for producing outstanding PhD graduates, as well as rigorous and innovative economic research. In recent years, Berkeley economics PhD's have been hired at many other leading institutions, including Harvard, MIT, Yale, the US Federal Reserve, and the World Bank. We are also consistently ranked among the world's top research departments. Berkeley faculty have won five Nobel Prizes, five John Bates Clark Medals, and 21 Alfred P. Sloan Research Fellowships (<http://emlab.berkeley.edu/econ/awards.shtml/#nobel>) (an average of one per year since 1995). Berkeley economics faculty and students have done ground-breaking work in economic theory, econometrics, macroeconomics, and all major fields of applied research, and have served as policymakers at the highest levels, both in the US and abroad.

Libraries

The Thomas J. Long Business Library (<http://www.lib.berkeley.edu/BUSI>) houses the major collection of business administration materials on the University of California, Berkeley campus. The Long Library's collections emphasize the academic and scholarly aspects of business to support the research and teaching mission of the university. Special strengths of the collection include: business ethics, company and business history, corporate finance, corporate social responsibility, entrepreneurship, family business, high technology industries, innovation and technological change, and nonprofit management. The collection, which spans our physical library, offsite storage in Richmond, and the web, includes over 150,000 books, 1.6 million microforms, and thousands of subscriptions in digital format. A large digital library in the social sciences supports the interdisciplinary research needs of graduate students and faculty.

The Mathematics Statistics Library (<http://www.lib.berkeley.edu/math/aboutlibrary/econlab.html>) maintains a reserve collection of software manuals for the Econometrics Lab (<http://emlab.berkeley.edu/eml>). The books are owned by the Econometrics Lab but circulated by the library on their behalf.
