

East European/Eurasian Languages and/or Cultures

Minor

The Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures offers a minor program in East European/Eurasian Languages and/or Cultures with emphases in Armenian, Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian, Czech, Hungarian, or Polish. Students who wish to major in these languages should consider the applicable program track available through the Slavic Languages and Literatures Department major program (<https://guide.berkeley.edu/archive/2024-25/undergraduate/degree-programs/slavic-languages-literatures/>).

Declaring the Minor

Students considering a minor track involving language requirements must see the undergraduate student services adviser early on to have their minor study list plan reviewed and approved; referral for language proficiency screening, placement, and potential language course credit for heritage or native speakers is required. Final approval for a minor rests with the major adviser. The paperwork for the minor, called an L&S Confirmation of Minor form, is completed with the undergraduate student services adviser no later than the semester before the student's Expected Graduation Term (EGT).

Other Minors Offered by the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures

Armenian Studies (<https://guide.berkeley.edu/archive/2024-25/undergraduate/degree-programs/armenian-studies/>) (Minor only)

Russian Language (<https://guide.berkeley.edu/archive/2024-25/undergraduate/degree-programs/russian-language/>) (Minor only)

Russian Culture (<https://guide.berkeley.edu/archive/2024-25/undergraduate/degree-programs/russian-language-literature-culture/>) (Minor only)

Russian Literature (<https://guide.berkeley.edu/archive/2024-25/undergraduate/degree-programs/russian-literature/>) (Minor only)

Slavic Languages and Literatures (<https://guide.berkeley.edu/archive/2024-25/undergraduate/degree-programs/slavic-languages-literatures/>) (Majors)

Students who have a strong interest in an area of study outside their major often decide to complete a minor program. These programs have set requirements.

General Guidelines

1. All minors must be declared before the first day of classes in your Expected Graduation Term (EGT). For summer graduates, minors must be declared prior to the first day of Summer Session A.
2. All upper-division courses must be taken for a letter grade.
3. A minimum of three of the upper-division courses taken to fulfill the minor requirements must be completed at UC Berkeley.
4. A minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 is required in the upper-division courses to fulfill the minor requirements.

5. Courses used to fulfill the minor requirements may be applied toward the Seven-Course Breadth requirement, for Letters & Science students.
6. No more than one upper division course may be used to simultaneously fulfill requirements for a student's major and minor programs.
7. All minor requirements must be completed prior to the last day of finals during the semester in which the student plans to graduate. If students cannot finish all courses required for the minor by that time, they should see a College of Letters & Science adviser.
8. All minor requirements must be completed within the unit ceiling. (For further information regarding the unit ceiling, please see the College Requirements tab.)

SLAVIC 49AC Children's Literature in the Context of American Cultures 3 Units

Terms offered: Spring 2025, Spring 2024, Spring 2023

Books written for children emerge from specific and complicated social and historical contexts, as do the children (and adults) who read these books. In recent years, the world of children's books has been rocked by productive debates about the kinds of stories told and the identities of the voices telling those stories. In this class, we will read a wide assortment of books written (both long ago and very recently) for children, with particular attention paid to books addressing the experiences of Native, Latinx and African American children in the United States. We will also read scholarly, critical, and theoretical articles as we engage with our texts. Assessment will be based on class participation, written papers, and exams.
